THE FRIENDS .- The E street Baptist Church was crowd ed last evening with an intelligent audience, mostly of ladies, attracted by the notice that Priscilla Green and Mary Nicholson, of the Society of Friends, would deliver addresses. Shortly after the hour designated, eight or ten Quakeressess, dressed in the garb peculiar to that sect, entered the church and occupied the platform. After some twenty minutes of profound silence, friend Priscilla-being moved thereto-deffed her bonnet and proceed ed to address the congregation. She is a middle-aged lady, of tall commanding form, and rather pleasing fea-tures. Her remarks were rather rambling and discursive, devoid of originality, and delivered in a sing-song monotonous tone. We were not sorry when she closed to give way to the next speaker, who, however, much to the regret of many, failed to speak. After waiting some fifteen minutes "Friend Mary whispered to Friend Priscil-On motion of Mr. Brown, a bill was taken from the la, and she, turning to a brother on her right, shook his table making an appropriation to pay Mr. Forsyth for a corrected book of plats; which was read a third time him a sources, and this being the last link in the Quaker him a squeeze, and this being the last link in the Quaker chain, it was announced that the services were ended. Verily! we were much disappointed that the spirit did not move Friend Mary to speak to the people. The Society of Friends will hereafter worship regularly in a house on Sixth street near the corner of E.

> THE OPERA. -- By reference to the announcement in this orning's Union of the Italian Opera, it will be seen that the presentation on Thursday night will be Trovatore, with Parodi as the Prima Donna. It is her first appearance in this city in opera, and we doubt not the performance will be a great treat to the many lovers of music in Washington. The sale of tickets will take place at Metzerott's, and as the number of seats in the theatre is not great, we anticipate that all of them will be taken without delay. The operatic company of M. Strakosch is one of the most complete that has ever visited Washington, and the three operas to be given are perhaps the best productions of their authors. The company is now in Baltimore, and of their first appearance on Saturday night the American of yesterday morning says:

In consequence of the change in the performance, Madame Colson did not ap-pear in the Trovatore, but the audience seemed quite enpear in the Provaction in the animance seemed quite en-raptured with Parodi as the prima donna, and equally so with Madame Strakosch. Brignoli, as tenor, drew down the most unbounded applause, as did also the very fine execution of the basso singer, Junco. The choruses are large and well drilled, and the whole performance was pronounced to be decidedly the best ever given in this city."

CIRCUIT COURT. -The circuit court met vesterday morning at 10 o'clock, Judges Dunlop, Morsell, and Merrick on the bench. There was a very large attendance present of members of the bar and others having business before the present term. On motion of J. A. Magruder, esq., Mr. John S. Rudd formerly of Virginia, was admitted to practice at the courts of the District of Columbia.

Mr. John P. Franklin was also presented by James M Carlisle, esq., and duly admitted. The court then proceeded to take up the trial docket and was engaged with it throughout the day.

Figs.-Yesterday between one and two o'clock a fire was discovered in the building on 7th street, near Louisiana avenue, occupied by Douglas Moore as a paper hanging and upholstery establishment and by a dagnerrean gallery in the rooms above. An effort was made to extinguish the fire by throwing water from buckets, but without success; the firemen, however, stopped the progress of the flames in a very few minutes after their arrival. The damage by the fire was not very great somewhat by water. There were two plarms of fire on Sunday. The first, about three o'clock, was occasioned by the ringing of a new church bell, which was mistaken for the Columbia fire-engine bell, and caused the companies to bring out their apparatus. The second, about seven o'clock in the evening, was a false alarm raised in the First ward.
